ABOUT ME

I'm Laurencio a.k.a Lalo, I have been working professionally as a videogame programmer for more than 5 years. I have experience leading and managing programming teams of more than 7 people. I'm passionate about playing videogames but even more about creating them and sharing my knowledge with others. In my free time I write on Medium about the development and programming of videogames. I consider myself a disco dancer and an evangelist of vscode and darkmode.

LATEST PROJECTS

DC DUAL FORCE

CCG based on DC ComicsI worked on this game for a year. My main task was to maintain and update the custom unity tool used to create the playables comics, also I worked creating new features for the Deck Builder and the Card Collection and I fixed a lot of bugs for the different systems.

ALPHAVERSE

It's a Metaverse and I worked on it for more than a year. I had to do the interviews, the project planning, define sprints and milestones, bring to life the customer necessities, manage a team of 7, define and teach the architecture, make the code reviews, create the release notes and code the main features.
